

Re: webnfs with AIX

Source: <http://unix.derkeiler.com/Mailing-Lists/AIX-L/2004-08/0184.html>

From: Ian D. Bjorhovde (ianbjor_at_MOBILEAUDIO.COM)

Date: 08/22/04

Date: Sat, 21 Aug 2004 20:29:33 -0700
To: aix-l@Princeton.EDU

Eric Hunter wrote:

- > I've read that if you want to run NFS across a firewall, you need to use
- > Suns Web NFS. According to the documentation on line, I see that AIX
- > above 4.2.1 is supposed to support Web NFS, but I cant find any example
- > of how it works with AIX.
- >
- > I see sun has a -public switch to mount, but this doesnt work on my AIX
- > 5.2 workstation.
- >
- > How do you share/mount/use webnfs under AIX?

You can use NFS across a firewall just fine, without "web nfs" (I've never heard of this). The client needs access to port 2049 for NFS data, and port 111 for RPC traffic.