I need a global patch management application for all platforms.

I need to be able to apply maintenance level patches from this application to AIX, Novell and Windows. I need to run reports telling me which nodes need updates, service packs, or maintenance level updates.

I don't need this application to upgrade my operating systems to newer versions.

Just what do you need it to do?

You're not going to find an application that will function like NIM, but for Novel & Windows too.

My boss wants a global patch management application for all O/S's; NIM won't do.

Can anybody recommend a good patch management tool which will do AIX, Novel and Mickey Soft too?
