

Re: OT(slightly): Cable marking recommendations

---

Source: <http://unix.derkeiler.com/Mailing-Lists/AIX-L/2006-02/msg00044.html>

---

- From: Anker Lerret <AIX-L@xxxxxxxxxx>
  - Date: Sat, 11 Feb 2006 23:34:45 -0500
-

Can anybody recommend good cable marking/labelling products?
I need something that can be used in situ.

I use a simple, cheap P-touch labelmaker, like you can buy at Staples. I use the smallest font and hit the "Print" button twice before I cut the label loose. Then I fold the label in half and crease it. Finally, I strip off the backing and lay the cable into the crease and press the sticky sides together.

As I write it out it seems complicated, but it's easy and produces durable, easy-to-read, sharp-looking labels.