We used to have that problem when we logged in via tty terminals. There were some distortions on the line such as heavy equipment with high voltage causing interference.

One thing to check is the lines and make sure they are not near high voltage equipment. Also, if you are dialing in via a modem, you may have to check the modem string for the same issue of interference.

Subject: Strange login error -- Password read timed out.

Fellow AIXers,

When I try to log into my AIX system, I see this message:

```
Entre com o prefixo do sistema: marlon
/dev/pts/9: 3004-031 Password read timed out -- possible noise on port
```

Have you seen that message?

Abraços,
