Hi,

I'm planning to manage the PRs emitted by the Debian FreeBSD effort: <http://www.nl.debian.org/ports/freebsd/>

Patches like:

<http://www.freebsd.org/cgi/query-pr.cgi?pr=68961>

I'd like to work as follows:

- test/review the patches
- present patches to FreeBSD developers on a regular basis
by the way of wiki pages or/and submissions to the lists
- outline patches that require discussion before commit
- commit them
- maintain them

Depending on the patch size, some work may or may not take place on Perforce first.

Opinions?

Nicholas
