

freebsd-arch: Re: some PRs

Re: some PRs

Source: <http://unix.derkeiler.com/Mailing-Lists/FreeBSD/arch/2004-07/0067.html>

From: Pawel Jakub Dawidek (pjd_at_FreeBSD.org)

Date: 07/18/04

Date: Sun, 18 Jul 2004 20:40:08 +0200
To: Robert Millan <zeratul2@wanadoo.es>

On Sun, Jul 18, 2004 at 06:51:42PM +0200, Robert Millan wrote:

+> I don't claim that /dev/full is useful just for the sake of it. Your argument
+> (that having a device just for each errno value is silly) is something I +> basically agree with.

Even if it is used by some programmes, I don't see it in the base system.
It can be always implemented as a kernel module and maintained outside the tree.

--

Pawel Jakub Dawidek
pjd@FreeBSD.org
FreeBSD committer

<http://www.FreeBSD.org>
<http://garage.freebsd.pl>
Am I Evil? Yes, I Am!

- application/pgp-signature attachment: stored