Hi,

In order to try and get some more coordination around this I've emailed a few of the "principles" (how do you do that in open source?) around this issue to try and get a small plan in place to solve these problems.

If you didn't get a mail from me and really care about this and also plan to write code around it, then let me know.

Comments welcome, but code is often more useful ;-)

Later,
George
