looks like you have a typo in your dns zone file for that domain.

the "a" record for prisons.gov.ng returns "200.46.208.158" while the "a" record for www.prisons.gov.ng returns "208.46.208.158"

Thank you ... I had looked at it too often, and didn't see the 208 at the start
:(Not my zone file ...

I'm not sure even how to search google for this one ... have an

RE: Apache responded except to a single one

RE: Apache responded except to a single one

apache instance with domains running on it ... if I telnet to all of them, they all respond
(typing GET / comes back fine) ...

But, one of them, it won't even connect ... the odd thing is, it will respond
to: 'domain', but it won't respond to 'www.domain':

telnet domain http
Trying 200.46.208.158...
Connected to prisons.gov.ng.
Escape character is '^]'.
^Cquit
Connection closed by foreign h

but not:

telnet www.domain http
Trying 208.46.208.158...

Please note that I'm running the telnet from the same box, there are no firewalls in place, and apache has www.domain as Servername for that virtual
host, whiel 'domain' is the serveralias ...

Help? :(
