I just installed FreeBSD on my computer.
It is working fine and I can get to the shell and do everything except go to the X window. I typed in syinstall and went to the graphical configuration for the X window system and typed in all the monitor and graphics card parameters and every thing else but when I finished it said The X Window configuration seems to have failed would you like to try again
I have a GeForce4 MX 420 and a CTX monitor Please send any ideas you have on what the problem is to tyrel@windstormgroup.com thank you for your time and help
