Hello,

I have a problem that I was wondering if you could help me out, I downloaded the freebsd from your site to install it on my sec hdd (hard drive), I'm able to boot up from the cd-rom, so I did so.

Long story short, I have my cd-rom on my secondary ide controller set to master with no slaves, My hdds are on the primary set to master and slave, will the problem is that when it come to install the rest of the bsd i try to install from the cd/dvd and it tells me that "no CDROM is found" and i have a "ATAPI CDROM" set to master on my sec ide controller with no slave device, please can you help, I've looked on the site but nothing there that could help me that i saw.

thank you

jason

sorry for me typing, im used chatting programs
