Hi Augusto,

Build yourself a FreeBSD box on modern hardware with Xorg, and KDE or Gnome and you won't regret it. There are remote desktop and vnc utils to get to a windows box for using windowscentric apps, they work great and are hassle free. I'll bet in a year's time, that windows box doesn't even get turned on anymore. FreeBSD is a pleasure to use, and the learning curve is not THAT great, especially with this mailing list, and if you're motivated. Do yourself a favor.

Good luck,
Bob
