I've used one of these before. (...)

Basically, it it pretends to be a keyboard. It plugs into the PS/2 port (...) with any operating system that supports a PS/2 keyboard. No special driver necessary.

Thanks for answering. I'm much more optimistic now about using FreeBSD for my inventory needs.

Easy as that, huh? And have you used it with FreeBSD? And, btw, where /is/ this code in the source tree?

Henry
