Rentals and Leasing Available

Renting or leasing test equipment is today's answer. Renting test equipment allows you to acquire test equipment without the investment of ownership. Renting test equipment is an ideal solution for companies that need additional test equipment on short notice or need test equipment for short periods of time. Rent test equipment for special projects, replace failed equipment, or evaluate test equipment before purchasing and avoid long lead times.

Test Equipment Connection is expanding its rental inventory and investing in the newest and most popular test equipment. Our inventory is growing and changes daily. We offer over 28,000 test instruments from over 250 manufacturers. When you rent test equipment, rental payments are treated as operating expenses and not part of your capital equipment budget.
