Does any one have one of these old devices they want to get rid of – cheaply? I have one that flashes all lights on the front after a power glitch. I had 2 in this shelf – and luckily only one of them got hit. I have tried re–seating and following the instructions to clear the error, but it looks like it is toast.

Or if you just have the drive – I am sure my former DEC FS skills can take care of placing it into the canister.
