Greenhelm Engineering is looking for volunteers who wish to make a difference by applying their technical and engineering skills. To get involved in the Greenhelm projects or to learn more about the organization, please visit www.greenhelm.com .

Greenhelm Engineering is a non-profit professional organization that works to strengthen communities and eradicate poverty through implementing engineering solutions that improve life conditions.

Greenhelm was founded in June 2007 by a group of engineering students from Canada and Germany willing to apply their knowledge and their ideas to help people in need.

Our goal is to apply our knowledge and engineering skills to implement basic technological improvements in regions where people's well being depends on them.

Greenhelm volunteers are trying to balance the fulfillment of human needs with the protection of the natural environment, thus contributing to a safe and sustainable development.
